

STEP MORE

Will back or will he take the final step? A great many people are in like the sleep-walker. They are pleased. The disease is progressing day by day. The time comes when one more step from health is fatal. The man who has suffered from indigestion or gastric trouble goes some night to a dinner and returns home to find he has taken that last step from health which can never be taken back.

The neglect of the cure of indigestion or of stomach trouble is dangerous. It is also inexplicable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and the blood, stimulates the liver, cures biliousness, and eliminates bilious poisons from the system.

"The reader I would like to tell you of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I cannot enter in detail about it, but I will write to Dr. B. Ambrose, Esq., at 107 W. Main St., Louisville, Ky., with what our physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here, and found no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

If you ask your dealer for "Golden Medical Discovery," you have confidence in its cures, do not allow yourself to be switched off to a medicine claimed to be "just as good," but which you did not ask for and which you know nothing.

You can get "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," 108 pages, per copy, free by sending 25 cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

POWERS-FERRELL.

Pikeville, Ky., June 7, 1902.—At 8:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening, June 4th, the elegant mansion of Mrs. Kentucky Ferrell, on Main Street, was the scene of the most brilliant wedding ever witnessed in Pikeville. Mr. James Preston Powers, of Salyerville and Mrs. Kentucky Ferrell were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. By 7:30 o'clock the grand mansion was a blaze of glory and great clusters of choice flowers were banked in every available space. At 8 o'clock the visitors began to arrive and were received at the door of the spacious hall and ushered into the vast parlors which were transformed into a perfect bower of beauty and were filled with the sweetest fragrance.

A few minutes before the time specified for the ceremony the visitors made a rush for the west parlor, where it was to take place, and soon the parlor and the adjoining hall were filled. Exactly at 8:30 Miss Paralee Clarke, the popular teacher, took her place at the piano, and as the sweet strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march floated through the room the bridal couple, preceded by Rev. J. H. Stambaugh, advanced with slow and measured step from the east parlor, through the hall and into the west parlor. Rev. Stambaugh, on reaching the center of the room, halted and whirled, facing the bridal pair, and a brief but solemn ceremony pronounced the couple man and wife. The clear ringing tones of the minister and the soft sweet notes of the piano were the only sounds audible while the two were being made one, so profound was the attention.

The bride, who is very handsome, looked her very best in an elegant costume of cream peau de soie trimmed in point lace. The bodice was laced with old gold. She carried a bouquet of ferns and white Jacquinot rose buds tied with white ribbon. She looked serene and happy. The big bridegroom wore an elegant suit of black broad cloth of a fashionable cut, and a white tie. He looked proud and happy. As he towered proudly above his bride the pleased and triumphant expression of his face was that of a mighty conqueror, who having vanquished all rivals had at last succeeded in securing the prize. As eager friends pressed forward to offer congratulations Miss Paralee Clarke showed the happy couple with rice which caused quite an outburst of merriment. The bridal pair followed by numerous others proceeded to the palatial dining room to partake of choice refreshments consisting of ice cream, strawberries and a variety of cake which was served at several tables. The dining room was a bower of white roses and ferns.

festoons of ferns decorated the entire ceiling, reaching diagonally across from the four corners. The decorations were made by that very artistic and skilled gentleman, Mr. G. A. Staley, assisted by his tasteful wife. At the bride's table besides the bridal pair were Rev. J. H. Stambaugh, Mrs. W. O. B. Ratcliff, Mr. Will W. Gray, Mrs. T. S. Bales and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Flannery.

Among those present were J. C. Hatcher and wife, M. W. Maynard and wife, W. O. B. Ratcliff and wife, T. S. Bales and wife, John Dills and wife, Ralph Hellier and wife, C. F. Mays and wife, M. Sowards and wife, Jas. Sowards and wife, James Scott and wife, Mrs. J. F. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson, W. T. Phillips and family, John Bowles and wife, Mrs. Dr. Campbell, Mrs. John Hatcher, Mrs. Roland Huffman, Mrs. Will Lore, Mrs. L. D. Marrs, Mrs. Phlego, T. M. Riddell and wife, Mrs. L. Ferrell, Messrs. Tom Williamson, A. J. Hatcher, James Hatcher, Will Gray and Dr. Bowen.

The wedding was followed by a grand dinner the next day which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. F.

Mays, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowles and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Phillips, G. A. Staley and wife, Jas. Sowards and wife, Will Gray, Dr. Lowman and W. H. Flannery and wife. Altogether the affair was a most enjoyable one. Much of the success of the arrangements was due to the skillful management of four of the bride's favorite sisters, Mrs. Frances Woodford, Mrs. Hester Sawyer, Miss Anna and Miss Bessie Sowards and her nephew, Mr. Otto Bentley. They superintended affairs and saw that everyone was made comfortable. Several handsome presents were received by the bridal pair.

The bride is a popular lady of great wealth and rare business qualifications. She has many friends in this her home town, while the groom is a gentleman of the highest standing. His popularity is not confined to Salyerville, his home town, but wherever he is known, and he is very widely known. Almost every child in the mountain towns where he is accustomed to visit knows "Jim Press" as he is familiarly called. We are glad that he is to become a firm fixture in Pikeville and trust that they may continue to love and cherish each other through a long and happy life and be found on the site of all that is lovely, pure and of good report.

SPRING FEVER.

Spring fever is another name for ill-humoredness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. I neglected serious illness by failing such symptoms. Dewitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and clearing the system of impurities. Satisfy Never grips. I have taken Dewitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver for six years, writes R. M. Evans, Moundsville, W. Va. They do me more good than anything I have tried.

The crops throughout this section are looking fine.

While coming home from Sunday school on last Sunday evening some of the people became surprised to see so many rushing forward; they did not know what the attraction was until later it was learned that two boys were trying to see which could take her. Of course one was successful.

Success to the News is the wish of this "Child."

CONSTITUTED BOWELS

To have good health, the body should be kept in a laxative condition, and the bowels moved at least once a day, so that all the poisonous wastes are expelled daily. G. L. Edwards, 142 N. Main St., Wichita, Kansas, writes: "I have used Herlone to regulate the liver and bowels for the last ten years and found it a reliable remedy." 50c per lb. A. M. Hughes.

LIV. STOCK NOTES.

The deer crop is determined to surpass all by the record of numbers. It is reported to be the best of the year.

It is a pleasure to suppose that some fortunate sheep does better than average.

Although it is supposed that the hog crop is also good, the fact that it is not mentioned is due to the fact that the market price is not yet known.
